What's new in Fantasy Grounds - Mythic Monsters 22: Emissaries Of Evil (PFRPG):

This week's Fantasy Grounds article is a Paizo Publishing adventure: Emissaries of Evil. This scenario, released in 2008 as part of a Pathfinder Adventure Path, was the first Mythic Monsters adventure released. In very short summary it involves an expedition to retrieve a Twa legendary, Eldrazi dimensional gateway artifact from the forces of Phyrexia. Emissaries of Evil, adventure #22. All Paizo characters can be played in this scenario if fantasy-based musth is not an issue. Therefore, get those Champions of order up! And make sure to pack in the guido's with you (or at the very least have a couple of overmatched orientals on hand to fake it for you!) A typical, 10-level, adventure scenario should take a player or party of characters about 4 sessions, although by all accounts the story in Emissaries of Evil is incomplete. The following provides a brief summary of the "about", if one has not read the scenario. As a rule of thumb, you should probably be aiming to have most enemies hit around a 17-20 in any monster rating. Any less and you'll end up fighting multiple enemies at once. The adventure was designed specifically for characters in the range of 3rd to 7th level. So rules clarity is, or at least ought to be, a priority when writing a fantasy-based adventure. Use this as a guide: Metecalem is a large hill in Perilous Valley, a mountain-esque locale, not to be confused with the 1st or the 3rd level, directly below the location of the adventure (Precinct of Dream). The hill is also a veritable eldritch maelstrom, that attracts dangerous nightmares and bloodthirsty nightmares. The local authorities refer to the spot as the Spoils of Nightmare. Hazaranas is a mountain in the south-eastern corner of the continent, not to be confused with the final location of the adventure, Mazram. The mountain is the province of a nearby rakshasa clan, the Marajahs, who rule the area. They inhabit a village called Mutsua to the south east of the base-level location. The Adventure (Step by Step, in its entirety) Chapter 1: Ambush! (5-7 daily) The adventurers are hired to track down a sinister cult, the Immortals
