From If the links are broken, the page returns with the same text as from the top of the page. A: The best way to download files is by their specific URL (the URL that starts with "" and ends with "download.htm") and not through a direct link. This is because from outside the direct link (i.e. a link that begins with "" and ends with ".htm") the server might not know exactly what to do with the link. For example, if you tried to download the file "" from a link outside of Visual Studio, the server might interpret this link to mean that you want to download a file called "VS10 Setup MSI", which is not what you want.
